(VOLUNTEER POLICY) ANNEX A

CODE OF CONDUCT (Relationships)

1. Volunteers should take care that their relationships with beneficiaries reflect their age, gender and maturity. It will be particularly important to ensure that all aspects of demeanour, language and attitudes -however conveyed -do not give rise to misunderstandings, especially when dealing with our girls.

2. Physical Contact - Volunteers should not make gratuitous physical contact with beneficiaries and should avoid attributing 'physicality' to their teaching style. There will be occasions when physical contact is acceptable:
 - a. Action to prevent harm or injury to the beneficiary or others - allowing the use of minimum force and contact necessary to prevent harm or injury is acceptable and defensible.
 - b. Comforting a beneficiary in distress – Volunteers should consider how others might perceive the action, even if others are present, and ensure that it does not develop into unnecessary contact. Particular care must be taken in instances, which involve the same beneficiary over a period of time.
 - c. Unavoidable contact - During outdoor or sporting activities where coaching is needed, volunteers must be alert to the possibilities of misinterpreting any contact. To avoid such misunderstanding, alternative methods involving demonstrations of particular techniques by the volunteer or a particularly competent beneficiary may be more appropriate than modifying a beneficiary's technique by physical contact.

3. Private Meetings
 - a. It is advisable to avoid remote areas and to ensure that wherever possible the door is left open or visual contact with others is maintained. Under no circumstances should meetings with individual beneficiaries be arranged off the school premises without the prior knowledge of the relevant authorities such as the Captain/Chaplain as well as the school and parent. Volunteers should never invite a beneficiary home when no one else is present.
